Boston Beauty to Wed Rockefeller

Mrs. Barbara Sears, divorced wife of socially-prominent Richard Sears, who is revealed today as the intended bride of Winthrop Rockefeller, America's most eligible bachelor. The couple will be married tomorrow night in the Palm Beach, Fla., home of Mrs. Winston Guest, the former Lucy Cochran, another Boston socialite.

Ashland Boy Slayer Given Life Sentence

Ralph A. Duchacek, Jr., 13-year-old honor student from Ashland, was sentenced to life imprisonment in Middlesex Superior Court today after he pleaded guilty to second degree murder in the "laundry bag" slaying of Mrs.

Dorothy Swenson, 40, in her Union st., Ashland, home last July 3. Handcuffed to Deputy Sheriff Arthur Cook, the husky youth was taken into court for trial today before Judge Edward F. Hanify. Only a handful of spectators were present as the youth entered the courtroom and smiled at his parents.

Defense Atty. Joseph P. Donahue told Judge Hanify the youth and his parents had been informed of the various degrees of murder and the penalties that he had been found sane by psychiatrists and that he was an honor student at school. He said the boy wished to plead guilty to second degree murder.

SMILES AT PARENTS

Dist. Atty. Thompson then asked that the guilty plea be accepted and moved for immediate sentence.

Judge Hanify sentenced him to life in State Prison and Deputy Cook escorted him from the courtroom immediately.

As the boy left, he turned and smiled at his parents. His mother smiled, then rose hesitantly to follow him.

By the time she reached the corridor, her son had been taken downstairs. She stood at the head of the stairway, her eyes swelling with tears. The Rev. Hampton E. Price, pastor of the Ashland Federated Church, went to her side and consoled her.

KNOWN AS MODEL BOY

The boy will spend his first day at the prison in solitary confinement and then will be assigned to prison duties.

The perplexing slaying, for which no motive ever has been discovered, occurred in Mrs. Swenson's cottage home last July 3. The body lay there until July 7, when it was discovered by Mrs. Swenson's daughter, Barbara, 17, a counselor at a summer camp, when she returned home for a visit.

Ralph, known as a model boy in Ashland, was questioned by State police since he had delivered newspapers in the Swenson home. Suddenly during the questioning he admitted he had killed the woman but could give no reason for his action.

According to the story he told investigators, he went to the collected 41 cents that was owed him for papers.

He left but returned some time later, according to his statement, and asked Mrs. Swenson for a drink of water. As she turned, he said, he followed her into the house and struck her on the head with a milk bottle.

As she fell to the floor, he said, he knotted a towel around her throat, then put a laundry bag over her head and pulled the draw-string tight, causing her to strangle. He left the house immediately.

After his arrest, he was committed to Metropolitan State Hospital for 35 days of observation and was adjudged sane.

Mercury Up, Snow Turns To Slush

Today's weather was beautiful but slushy.

Sunny skies and temperatures ranging into the 40's broke the protracted cold spell and played havoc with streets and crosswalks throughout the city as the weather gave promise of being the warmest this year.

Heaped up snow, including two inches which fell during the night, began to melt rapidly as the mercury climbed above the freezing mark before dawn. By mid-morning in many sections where clogged catch basins prevented the melted snow from flowing away, street crossings were quagmires of slush and water.

Weather officials said the temperature would climb to 42 or higher before night and agreed the maximum might well be higher than the 45 set last Jan. 9, the warmest day so far this year.

The temperature is expected to dip tonight, going to the low 20's before it starts to rise again to reach the middle 30's tomorrow.

Weather forecasters said the welcome relief from the cold was due to a warm front, accompanied by drizzling rain, which moved up from the south and drove the frigid wave out to sea. Prevailing westerly winds here kept the rain out of the area, but did not hold back the warmth.

Officials at the weather bureau predicted the two-day thaw would dispose of several inches of snow but would have little effect on the solid ice beneath it.

Dane Atom Expert En Route to U. S.

LONDON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Prof. Niels Bohr, Danish atom scientist, left for the United States, the Danish embassy said today. His mission and means of travel were not disclosed.

However, one of the scientist's aides said in Copenhagen three weeks ago that Bohr soon would pay a "scientific visit" to the United States.

Lincoln Day Closing Checks Price Dive

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Plunging market prices took an enforced breather today after a week-long rampage. Commodity and securities markets were closed in observance of Lincoln's Birthday. The first decisive break in the rising price level came on Feb. 4.

Since then prices have nosedived on the commodity and security exchanges, and to a lesser extent in wholesale food and raw material markets. Grains and cotton led the slide.

It still was on Wednesday, but appeared to be losing some of its violence.

Last Friday the consumer felt the first effects of the widening breaks. New retail food price cuts were on the fire last night.

PRICES SLIDE

The retail price of flour andlard fell. Bacon and some cuts of beef were cheaper in many stores. Bread prices were down.

Reaction spread Wednesday to securities markets around the world. Stocks tumbled in Manila, Copenhagen, Sydney and Toronto. There was a slump on the London market, but prices there recovered before the British exchange closed for the day.

There were temporary rallies in the prices of grain during the week, but they were short-lived.

The worst day of the week-long melee was Tuesday. Stocks tumbled $1 to $5 a share and sent the Associated Press average down to a new low since June. Never before were so many issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

INFLATION END SEEN

"The back of inflation has been broken," said A. W. Zelomsk of New York, economic counselor and president of the International Statistical Bureau, a private organization. Many economists agreed.

Zelomsk predicted that commodity prices would fall 20 to 25 per cent within nine months. Most economists were chary, however, with any predictions for the future.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—E. T. Maynard of Chicago will be asked to tell congressional investigators why the grain market slump into a $200,000 profit.

The only question today is which of three interested committees will get to him first.

The three are the Senate Agriculture Committee, a Senate appropriations subcommittee inquiring into speculation, and a similar special group in the House.

3 Soap Firms Slash

Wholesale Price 5 P.C.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—Procter & Gamble Co., Lever Bros. and Colgate-Palmolive-Peet today announced price cuts of 5 per cent at wholesale on all soap products, effective immediately.

The companies said the reduction reflected the recent downward trend in fat and oil prices.

2 New Met Tieups Delay Commuters

Power failure in a Met trolley inbound to Egleston sq. from Mattapan sq. and a roadblock accidentally set up against Met buses in Center st., West Roxbury, by a trailer-truck that jackknifed made thousands of commuters 25 to 40 minutes late in reaching their jobs today.

Latest barometts of the Met service came on the heels of an intermittent seven-hour tieup in the East Boston area yesterday, perhaps the worst of its kind in the line's history.

The trolley stalled at Wales st. and Blue Hill ave. and had to be pushed to a siding in Grove Hall.

The jackknifed truck swung across Center st. at Walter st., West Roxbury. The vehicle finally was straightened out.

Cause of the Wednesday tie-up was given as a cable short-circuited by workmen cleaning a catch basin in East Boston.

Plane, 21 Aboard, Crashes in Reich

FRANKFURT, Feb. 12 (AP)—A Danish Airlines plane with 17 passengers and four crewmen aboard crashed today in Ulrichstein, 30 miles north of Frankfurt.

None of the persons aboard was American. The plane was en route from Copenhagen to Frankfurt.

The U. S. Army sent ambulances to the scene. U. S. constabulary officers said they believed six had died and at least 10 had survived the crash.

Boston Socialite's Ex-Wife Wins Rockefeller

In Stage Role

By JOE FRANKLAND

In a romance that has few equals, a beautiful 30-year-old Chicago and Boston showgirl—a blonde Lithuanian who married in and out of the socially prominent Boston Sears family—tomorrow night will wed America's most eligible bachelor, Winthrop Rockefeller, grandson of the fabulous John D.

She was born Jievute Paulekiute and under this name was chosen "Miss Lithuania" at a Chicago beauty contest at the Century of Progress Exhibition.

In two short years she had changed her name twice, first to Eva Paul (Jievute means Eva in Lithuanian), and starred as Pearl in the never-to-be-forgotten drama, "Tobacco Road."

Playing the role in Boston, she met Richard Sears, now third secretary of the American Embassy in Paris, but then fresh from a Harvard graduation.

On Christmas Eve the young socialite took little Eva up on Beacon Hill to participate in Boston's traditional carol singing. He proposed that night and she soon was known by still another name, Mrs. Barbara Paul Sears.

But during their honeymoon and up to the time of their rift, Sears' pet name for her was Bobo.

Bobo will marry Rockefeller tomorrow night at the Palm Beach estate of Mrs. Winston Guest, Boston's former glamor girl and actress, who was Lucy Cochrane. Bobo will answer, at the ceremony, as "Barbara."

The name Barbara for a time remained a mystery. The American learned today, however, in scarping Reno divorce records that Eva was divorced on grounds of cruelty and then returned to Reno again only last December to have her name changed legally from Eva of the stage to Barbara.

After more theater roles, including the dancing daughter in "You Can't Take It With You" and a Hollywood screen role, the new Mrs. Sears went to Paris with her diplomat husband. She left him in Paris last Sept. 6 and on Nov. 1 was granted a divorce in Reno.

WORKED AS SECRETARY

The divorce obtained, Eva continued her role as a career girl as a secretary with the Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. in New York, where young Rockefeller is an official.

Until two months ago she lived with a sister in an apartment on Third ave., New York, right beside the El, but left at that time with instructions that her mail would be called for.

It was by Winthrop Rockefeller, himself. He picked up the last of it Friday, just before taking off to meet her in Florida on the Eastern Airline Constellation that crash-landed at Bunnell, Fla.

"That's quite a story about her meeting Mr. Rockefeller while in employ of his company in New York," declared Mrs. Richard Sears of Beacon st., the ex-mother-in-law of the show girl.

MET ON COAST

"I have reason to believe that Eva met Mr. Rockefeller on the West Coast more than a year ago. She is a very nice girl and very pretty but she and my son did not get along."

"She apparently did not go back to the stage. I suppose the Rockefeller family would disapprove. Perhaps that's why she went to work for Socony-Vacuum for a while."

On Tuesday, Rockefeller and his bride-to-be motored to Okeechobee, Fla., and filed wedding intentions quietly. It was learned

3 Fire Deaths Send Her Back To Scotland

MILTON VILLAGE, Vt., Feb. 12.—In this American town where she had found happiness and a new life, a Scottish war bride was packing her luggage today to return to Scotland because a triple tragedy had wiped out the cherished dreams built out of a war romance.

The former Catherine Anton of Glasgow was consoled by her 5-year-old twin daughters, Catherine and Pearl, following a house fire that claimed the lives of her husband, Elvin Steady, 27, and their other children, Sandra, 12 months, and James, one month.

She explained: "I spoke to my father in Glasgow by telephone twice today. I told him I would have to return. I just couldn't bear to stay here and see the empty place where our home stood."

Then she described the early morning fire: "I was awakened by James crying. I thought it was time for his feeding but when I put on the light I saw the room was full of smoke."

"I called to my husband. At the same time I carried the twins to safety. My husband went to carry out the infants after he unlocked the front door for me. Then I heard the kitchen oil burner explode."

"I left the twins in a snowbank across the road and went back to see why my husband was still in the house, but I couldn't get back in. When he didn't come out, I screamed and ran down the road for help."

Canton Mother, 4 Children Are Rescued in Blast Fire

Four children and their mother were dramatically rescued early today by a home owner in Canton, who was awakened by an explosion to find his dwelling afire and safe exit cut off by flames.

Paul Lowell of Walpole st., a Boston mechanic, aroused his wife and children and led them all in nightclothes to the porch roof farthest from the flames racing upstairs from the living room.

He lowered his wife over the roof edge, but in dropping 15 feet to a snowbank she twisted her back and lay helpless in pain. He then lowered his oldest son, Paul, Jr., 14.

While the son ran to the nearest neighbor, Mrs. Mary Wilson, who lives 300 yards away in Walpole st., the father shepherd the three younger children to a spot where the fall was shortest.

There he lowered Alvina, 11, and she dropped safely to the snow. He instructed her to wait with hands upraised to catch the baby, Linda, 3, but decided the risk of injuring both children was too great and he dropped Linda into soft snow near Alvina.

The father then lowered John, 8, into the snow, and himself dropped beside the child.

His Bride Kidnaped, Boy Right Upset

BLACKSHEAR, Ga., Feb. 12 (AP)—A teen-aged husband allowed today he was right upset over the youth he accuses of kidnaping his 14-year-old bride of a few minutes.

A third telephone call was received yesterday at a rural store from the missing bride, Mildred Aspinwall Teston, from Hawkinsville, Ga., saying:

"Tell my ma I'm safe and haven't come to no hurt. I'll try and phone tomorrow."

Sheriff L. L. Taylor said a kidnap warrant had been sworn out against James B. Davis, 22, construction worker from California.

The husband, Doniver Teston, 18, said it wouldn't have come to pass if the lights on his old car hadn't burned out.

Teston said he accepted Davis' offer to drive him and his bride-to-be, Sittie Aspinwall, to Alma, Ga., to be married.

The disconsolate husband said he "been right sweet on Sittie" for some time, that they had known each other all their lives.

On the way back from Alma, said Teston, the three stopped for a soft drink. As he returned to the car with the drinks, he said, Davis drove off with the bride.

Teston said he and a storekeeper gave chase in another car, but Davis soon disappeared.

The parents of the girl said Davis had begun paying attention to Sittie when he first came to the community about three months ago and once had picked her up at school for a ride.

House Action Waited On Wiggin Resignation

Resignation of Henry Dwight Wiggin, West Newton, counsel to the House of Representatives for 27 years, was to be submitted to the committee on rules by Speaker Frederick B. Willis, Saugus, today.

Though Wiggin's resignation had been expected, House leaders believed they had persuaded him to see out the current session which is faced with a record number of bills and petitions.

5 Fake Ride Entries Charged to Hub Cop

Patrolman Joseph W. Kiley, Jr., one of three Station 4 policemen charged with taking a patrol wagon on an unauthorized New Year's Eve ride during which a prisoner was released, admitted making five false entries about wagon runs that night, Deputy Police Supt. James T. Sheehan testified today.

Sheehan resumed his testimony at the public hearing granted Kiley and Patrolmen Thomas J. Rosebach and Edward J. Ahern before Police Comr. Thomas F. Sullivan and Supt. Edward W. Fallon.

All three officers are charged with untruthfulness about their New Year's Eve activities and with making a wagon run without authority. In addition, Rosebach is accused of soliciting a bribe to release a celebrator picked up on a drunkenness charge, and Ahern with accepting the bribe.

REPORT TO SERGEANT

Sheehan testified that Kiley told Sgt. Hugo Sullivan he made false entries about wagon runs "to cover myself," adding he didn't realize how much importance would be attached to them.

The deputy said Kiley insisted he was at the wheel of the wagon and didn't know what went on in the rear.

Deputy Supt. Sheehan told the hearing that he had been assigned by Supt. Edward Fallon to investigate a complaint made by Army Sgt. Raymond T. Mansell of Lynn.

Mansell asserted he paid a police officer $20 to release his stepfather who had been arrested on a charge of drunkenness at Northampton and Washington sts. about 5 a. m. New Year's day.

Sheehan testified Kiley told him substantially that he as driver, Ahern in the front seat, and Rosebach in the back, stopped at Tremont and Pembroke sts. after picking up Mansell's stepfather.

ARGUMENT RELATED

He said Kiley told him Ahern then went to the rear of the wagon and returned with a bill and that Ahern told Kiley he had gotten the bill "back there," meaning the rear of the wagon.

Kiley, he said, also stated that he saw Mansell and another man who had been in the patrol car get into a cab. Sheehan added that Kiley admitted coloring his report of the wagon trip "so that Ahern and Rosebach would not lose their jobs."

Sheehan said the three patrolmen had argued about the matter and that Kiley told Ahern he had gotten them "all in a jam. Why don't you tell the whole story?"

Ahern replied, according to Sheehan, "I'll stick to my story. I never left the front seat of the wagon."

Granito Returns To Stand, Denies $110,000 Holdup

Samuel Granito of Brooklyn returned to the stand in Suffolk Superior Court today to reiterate that he was picking up bets in New York at the time of the $110,000 Sturtevant payroll robbery.

Granito, charged with armed robbery, has engaged in a lengthy battle of wits with Prosecutor Frederick T. Doyle.

Over and over, Doyle attempted to have Granito admit making certain statements Nov. 9 in the office of the New York district attorney, but on each occasion received an answer of either "I don't remember" or "It couldn't have happened like that."

Many times Judge Felix Forte was forced to intercede as Doyle and defense Atty. Herbert F. Callahan clashed violently.

Earlier, Callahan had objected strenuously to the reading of the transcript to which Judge Forte, in the presence of the locked-up jury, stated:

"Here is a man charged with a serious crime. He was asked by police to think over where he had been 10 days before, to think it over for an hour."

"At the end of that hour he was asked: 'Did you think it over?' His answer was, 'No, not at all.'"

"Now, Mr. Callahan, isn't that an indication of some evidence on the issues in this case? Is it consistent with innocence? Do you want to discuss it? I'll be glad to discuss it with you."

6 Families Routed By Mattapan Fire

Six families, including baby twins and several children, were forced to flee to the street today when a three-alarm fire roared through a three-story dwelling in Browning ave. in the Mattapan section of Dorchester.

The blaze, which apparently started in the basement, enveloped the area with heavy smoke. All of the residents managed to reach safety before flames broke through the roof.

The fire had gained considerable headway when apparatus reached the scene and a second alarm was sounded immediately. A third was turned in soon after.

Courteous Driving Nets $10 Reward

BURBANK, Cal. Feb. 12 (AP)—Careful and courteous driving rates a reward once in a while, Miss Helen Hittson believes. She sent a $10 check to Mrs. Yvonne Pessano with a note stating:

"Just because it seems that good and courteous drivers should be rewarded once in a while, I am enclosing a check as a token of thanks."

The incident came to light when Mrs. Pessano, perplexed at receiving money from a stranger, told police.

Miss Hittson, it developed, had followed Mrs. Pessano's car for several miles recently and traced her through license plates. She said she puts aside 10 per cent of her earnings in a "do good" fund to make the awards.

Mrs. Pessano, in turn, donated the $10 to the March of Dimes.

Snowslide Hurls Train Into Gorge

ALAMOSA, Col., Feb. 12 (AP)—A thundering snowslide swept three tiny cars on a mountain railway into a precipitous gorge last night but all 14 occupants miraculously escaped death. Two escaped without any injury. Two men and three women were hospitalized. The others were treated for minor injuries.

The narrow gauge Denver and Rio Grande western train makes a daily round trip from Alamosa to Durango and return. It was 50 miles from here to Teller gorge in the Cumbres mountains when the slide struck without warning.

The two engines needed to pull it up the winding roadbed, a baggage car and an express car were safely past the danger point when the avalanche—100 feet wide and 10 feet deep, struck.

The impact cut loose the last three cars—two chair cars and a combination parlor-dinette car. Snow engulfed them, then went under and ahead of them providing a cushion that held the cars upright.

Some 400 feet down the 40-degree slope, the first chair car smashed against a tree, came to a halt only a few yards before the lip of the gorge broke into a cliff dropping another 500 feet. The second coach stopped after 300 feet and the parlor car came to a halt 30 feet from the track.

MRS. FAY HALL, LYNN SCHOOL TEACHER
Seeks Leave of Absence to Become a Mother

Await Lynn Ruling On Teacher's Baby

City Solicitor Patrick F. Shanahan, Lynn, today was in the lee of the storm blown into his office by that city's school committee when it asked him to rule on the leave of absence asked by pretty Mrs. Fay Hall, teacher at the Cobbet School, because she expects her baby in May.

Shanahan is ill at home, does not expect to return to his office until Saturday and may not have a decision on the delicate problem until early next week.

The school committee's three male members plus Mayor Stuart A. Tarr, chairman ex-officio, gallantly took the part of the teacher. They felt, they indicated, that she had a right to that leave of absence.

The three female members felt just the other way. Crux of the split in the ranks was the fact that a rule against employment of married women teachers had been suspended during the war and not yet revoked.

The expected visit from the stork first was learned by School Supt. Ernest Stephens a month ago when Mrs. Hall requested leave. The matter was put up to the school committee this week, this way:

"The superintendent has been asked by a teacher whether the school committee will grant a maternity leave of absence."

Then the storm broke.

BAR WOMEN TEACHERS

Although the discussion was informal, the three women on the board were arrayed against the three men on the leave-of-absence question. Mrs. Viola Faus, Mrs. Bessie Buzell and Miss Patricia Leonard, 21, all said they believed the expectant mother should resign and seek reinstatement when her baby was old enough so separation would not hurt them—somewhere between 18 months and school age.

An attractive, petite, auburn-haired girl in her late 20's, Mrs. Hall is the former Euphemia "Fay" Sano of Lynn, and is one of the school system's most popular teachers. A graduate of Salem Teachers' College, she is now in her sixth year as a third-grade teacher at Cobbet School. She makes her home in Lynn with her husband, Ray Hall, a native of Pennsylvania and an employee of the General Electric plant in Everett, whom she married in November, 1946.

N. Y. to Send Fuel Oil to Bay State

An emergency visit to New York by Robert H. Montgomery, deputy state fuel coordinator, has assured Massachusetts of 20,000 barrels of No. 2 fuel oil to ease the critical shortage here, Co-ordinator George H. Rockwell announced today.

The chief co-ordinator, however, said he viewed the next 10 days with alarm as oil distributors informed him that the position appears worse than ever before in the shortage.

Worst blood has been the rejection by Navy Sec. John Sullivan of an urgent plea by Gov. Bradford for 2,110,000 gallons of Diesel oil.

The Governor said he had asked for a return of 34,000 barrels of Diesel oil, originally earmarked for Massachusetts emergency use but diverted by the Navy to relieve a critical shortage in New York.

He had also asked for an additional 16,000 barrels to help ease the crisis in eastern Massachusetts, Bradford said.

In Lynn the shortage was reported by Area Co-ordinator Arthur Pinkham as very serious.

Fined in Gun Case, Youth to Face Girl In Theft of $18.86

METHUEN, Feb. 12—Barbara Allen, 17, may get that heart-to-heart talk she wants with her ex-fiance, Edward M. Smith, 20, Whitman st., Lawrence, to discover what he did with about half the $18.86 he allegedly stole from her and her brother, Robert, 14.

Police were on their way to Nashua, N. H., today to pick up Smith on his release from municipal court there. Young Smith, sporting a new pair of trousers and a natty sweater, pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, namely a revolver, when he was arrested in Nashua yesterday.

FINED $25

The court imposed a $25, which was paid by the youth's uncle, Bernard Smith, and a one-year suspended sentence. The uncle also came up with $6.82 in costs. Police en route from here to Nashua are armed with two warrants charging young Smith with the larceny of $918 from Barbara and $962 from Robert, money left them by their mother on her death in December.

Nashua police accounted for about $630 of the legacy, stolen from a pair of shoe skates in Barbara's home. They said young Smith had bought himself two suits, two suitcases, shirts, sweaters, several rings, a cigaret lighter, a radio, a pair of cowboy boots, and the gun. The weapon worth $46, was confiscated by the court and will be turned over for sale by Methuen police, the proceeds to go to Barbara.

Most of the other purchases made by Smith will also be reclaimed, police said, so that Barbara stands a chance of getting back a good part of what she and her brother once had.

Barbara said: "I'm glad to hear there's some of the money left," she told a Boston American reporter today as he broke the news to her of Smith's arrest.

"I want to talk to him in person. I think maybe he hid away some more of the money. I don't think he wasted all of $900 in just two days."

Although Barbara's mind was largely on matters financial, she took time out to disclose that a lovers' quarrel was the probable reason leading to the departure of her intended.

DIDN'T HAVE STEADY JOB

"I had known Ted a long time and we started keeping company about seven months ago," she recalled. "We began going steady about five months ago and became engaged."

"He didn't have a steady job. He liked being a mechanic, but he took a job in a mill, and after some argument he got through there. He wanted to set the date for our marriage right away."

"I have a steady job at a mill, and I told him I didn't want to get married until he had a steady job. And, too, I told him I wanted to wait until I was 18."

CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT

"We had an argument about this just two days before he disappeared with the cash."

"It's a fine thing when you can't even trust your own boy friend! As soon as I got my money back, I am going to put it right in the bank. And my advice to other girls is they had better be cautious and look before they leap."

Throng in River At Gandhi Rites

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 12 (INS)—The sacred confluence of the Ganges and Jumna rivers was transformed into a "sea of heads" today when thousands of Indians waded up to their necks in the water where Mohandas Gandhi's ashes were immersed.

The handfuls of dust that comprised the murdered spiritual leader's remains were consigned to the calm waters in accordance with his own wishes amidst a final outpouring of grief and lamentation that has had no parallel in modern history.

The mournful ceremony, witnessed by millions of followers who converged on Allahabad, was concluded when one of Gandhi's sons bent low over the water and sprinkled the last earthly remains of his father from an urn.

Members of Gandhi's own family who went out on the Ganges in a boat immediately bathed themselves in the river water.

PATROLMAN CHARLES DIAS
Holds Gun Seized From Suspect

Officer Tells How He Shot To Save Life

In a life-and-death struggle with an armed burglar, a Boston policeman early today shot his assailant through the leg—then apologized to him as the gunman writhed in pain on a blood-stained South End snowbank.

Patrolman Charles Dias, 32, encountered the man while checking a burglary at the DeCatur-Hopkins hardware store, a six-story building at Berkeley and Chandler sts.

Dias said he saw the man, identified as Paul Johnson, 28, of Rochester st., South End, a Negro, leap from a second floor window and land on the sidewalk. The policeman said he pulled his revolver and shouted to the man to halt, but the man leaped into a doorway. Dias ran toward the doorway and the man leaped at him, he said.

The officer related: "I had my gun out, but he seized my right hand and pushed it down. I grappled with him and I could see him reaching down for a gun he had tucked in his belt."

"He got this gun out and raised it until it was pointing almost at my throat. I twisted my police gun out of his grasp and fired downward toward his stomach. The bullet penetrated his left leg."

Diaper-Change Slogan Beats Males in Election

GRAY, Ga., Feb. 12 (AP)—Pert Mrs. "Pat" Hungerford, "The Nurse Lady" of rural Jones County and mother of two children, has won a seat on the Board of County Commissioners. She not only beat 11 men for the job; she led the entire ticket. Unofficial returns gave her 1016 votes against 788 for the next highest male candidate. Her campaign slogan was: "Vote for the babies. I change their diapers." You work for one end, I work for the other."

BANISH HIGH PRICES—here's the plan that does it—been doing it for years—keeps prices DOWN—LOWERS THE COST OF LIVING—goods must all sell out in 30 selling days or be given to charitable institutions, but to make sure all goods sell we make first prices LOW to sell quickly—and if they don't sell at the first LOW price it is automatically LOWERED again, again, and again 25%, 50%, 75% after 12, 18 or 24 selling days—that's why you don't find any high prices around here. Russia Accuses France, Britain of Double-Cross

MOSCOW, Feb. 12 (AP)—Russia says Great Britain and France before the war encouraged Adolf Hitler to turn the German army against the Soviet Union. She charges that they let Germany take over Czechoslovakia and, in the pact of Munich and others, entered into non-aggression agreements with Germany's Fuehrer.

These accusations were made in a statement issued last night by the Soviet Information Bureau. In support of them, the bureau cited German Foreign Office documents for 1937 and 1938 which it said the Red Army had captured.

The statement was Russia's second in reply to publication of papers on Nazi-Soviet relations by the U. S. This one said little about the U. S.

(The U. S. State Department published captured documents Jan. 21 which said Hitler and Stalin plotted to split up Poland, dominate the Balkans and shut the Western Powers out of Europe altogether.)

(In Washington last night, no comment was forthcoming from the department on the latest Soviet statement.)

(The British Foreign Office and the French Foreign Ministry did not comment, either. In London, a foreign-office spokesman said Britain's official reply, if any, would be withheld pending a check on how the statement was documented.)

The Soviet communique said British-French policy before the war was aimed "at isolating the USSR and directing Hitlerite aggression toward the East against the Soviet Union, using Hitler as a tool for their own ends."

Solon Asks Details on Offer Of Coal to Germany at $120

By KENT HUNTER

Boston American Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12—Rep. Walter C. Ploeser (R.) of Missouri, chairman of the House committee on small business, today called upon the attorney general of New York state for information about a firm which guarantees delivery of coal briquettes to any zone of Germany, including the Russian zone, at $120 per ton.

A postcard, apparently sent to persons with German names throughout the U. S., gave the address of the Standard Exchange Co., (overseas parcel division), 147 East 86th st., New York city, with the telephone number Atwater 9-9090. Receipt of such cards has been reported from several cities.

The card stated:

"We guarantee to deliver coal briquettes to Germany—all zones, including the Russian zone and Berlin—from stockpiles abroad."

"I have asked Atty. Gen. Nathan Goldstein of New York to give me background information about this firm," Rep. Ploeser said.

"The price Americans are asked to pay to send these gifts of coal to friends and relatives in Germany is 13 times the value fixed on American coal in the Marshall plan reports—$9 a ton. It is eight times the cost of Polish and other European mined coal as quoted in the Marshall plan reports."

"The 'guarantee' that the coal briquettes will be delivered from 'stockpiles abroad' is intensely interesting to my committee."

Housing to Get Congress OK, Senator Says

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R.) of Wisconsin predicted today that Congress will pass a long-range housing bill this year.

The Wisconsin lawmaker, vice-chairman of the House-Senate Housing Committee, made this forecast after talking with GOP leaders in Congress.

At the same time McCarthy recommended in a report to the joint committee that there be no provision in the program for government operated or owned housing projects.

He said any public housing legislation should be handled separately in order to avoid "emotional controversies."

"Private enterprise must be our chief reliance," McCarthy declared.

He said the goal should be 1,500,000 new dwellings a year. But added that about 700,000 of these probably will continue to be priced out of the market each year unless (a) "we are able to bring about a substantial reduction in prices" or (b) arrange for the government to stand part of the cost.

McCarthy's report is based on hearings he held last fall in a number of major cities. Except for public housing, it largely parallels many features of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill approved by the Senate Banking Committee last April.

The Senate Republican leadership has refrained from calling up that measure for debate, however, apparently because of doubt that it could pass the House.

Costa Rican Plot Nipped

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Feb. 12 (AP)—Troops and police today nipped a plot to overthrow Costa Rica's government and install former President Rafael Calderon Guardia.

The attempted coup began with violence last night over Sunday's presidential elections. A policeman was killed and several persons were wounded.

Gangs raced through the streets. They wore the blue, yellow, and red armbands of the Republicano Nacional and the red armbands of the Vanguardia Popular (Communist) party, both supporters of Calderon.

Calderon trails by 10,000 votes in Sunday's election and has conceded the victory of publisher Otilio Ulate Blanco, of the Union Nacional party.

5 Boys Admit Vandalism in Quincy School

Five boys from 8 to 11 years old, captured as they climbed in to the Thomas B. Pollard School on the Southern Artery in Quincy, allegedly bent on vandalism, were in seclusion at their homes today awaiting a session of Quincy juvenile court Tuesday.

The youngsters admitted they broke into the school four times in the past four weeks to destroy furnishings and had the same intention when they crawled through a window for the fifth today, police said.

About $500 damage was done seriously when windows were broken, desks overturned and ink splashed on walls. Four of the lads are pupils in the school, and the fifth attends a nearby school.

The quintet got the surprise of their young lives when they slipped into the darkened building and ran into the waiting arms of Lt. James W. Kemp and Patrolman James W. Nicholl.

They were taken to the Quincy police station, and after a session with their captors were charged with being delinquent children and were turned over to their parents.

Youngsters Told 'Make Dad Pay'

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12 (AP) — A doctor's advice to ungrateful young couples:

"Go ahead and have your babies, and if you do, make your parents support them."

Dr. John Rock, fertility expert of Harvard Medical School, said the best time for both men and women to begot children is in the late teens and early twenties.

But, he told an obstetrical assembly, "people who marry at that age too often postpone parenthood because of economic reasons. I suggest we return to the practice of the older days, when parents of young couples gave them financial support."

QUAKE TOPPLES 52 HOUSES
ATHENS, Feb. 12 (AP).—The press ministry said an earthquake shook the island of Scarpanto (Carpathos) in the Dodecanese group. Fifty-two houses collapsed and 250 were damaged.

AMERICAN community life is richer because of Boy Scout achievements.

As some 2,000,000 of these youths observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, this bank joins with the people of America in a well-merited tribute to the organization.

Since its founding 38 years ago more than 13,500,000 American boys and men have become identified with Scouting... now a brotherhood that spreads around the world. The Scout motto everywhere is: "Be Prepared."

For the more than twenty years that this bank has helped to provide and distribute the organization's official calendars to the Boy Scouts of Greater Boston, thousands of former Scouts have become grown men, making steady progress in business and the professions. Many of them still heed the Ninth Scout Law: "A Scout is True." In fact, many of our depositors who have saved at this bank since Scouting days have Boy Scout pens which are now opening their accounts here.

Just as the youthful Scouts learn the value of being prepared, so many adults realize the value of preparing for their own future needs at New England's largest savings bank. That's important, too, in terms of community progress.

If you'd like to join the thrifty people, young and old, who are building solidly for security through systematic savings, call at any of our offices... or fill out the coupon below and we shall be glad to send you a signature card. When this card is returned with your initial deposit, a bank book and convenient Banking by Mail forms will be mailed to you.

Everyone knows where this one's going

No, it hasn't always been easy, here of late, to be absolutely sure just which way automobile design was heading.

So it's a refreshing thing, people tell us, to see one car that quite clearly knows where it's going — and shows it inside and out.

You can't mistake this poised and ready fashion plate for anything but a Buick — you're sure from a glance that you'll find it steady as a battle cruiser and full of ginger as one of Grandma's cookies.

Your eye tells you it's big — you step in and find this bigness carried out in usable room as well as measurable inches.

A broad bonnet promises plenty-power — and you get it with such velvety new smoothness that you need to check the battery-charge needle

No gears ever shift in DYNAFLO DRIVE

In Buick's new Dynaflo Drive, sliding gear transmissions and complex gear changers are made unnecessary. You simply set a selector lever and step on the gas. The power plant does the rest, adjusting itself to varying driving conditions with utter smoothness. You start up — accelerate — climb hills — cruise — stop — start up again — all without touching the selector lever.

to make sure the engine's running.

You size it up as comfortable. The road's verdict is that it's the most tireless car on the market, what with four coil springs, pillowy low-pressure tires and a wholly new attack on car vibration keeping you fresh and relaxed through the longest day.

You find quiet here — quiet that encourages conversation — quiet from Sound-Sorber top lining that invites conversation in normal tones.

And if it's a Dynaflo® Roadmaster you're handling, here you can sample driving ease that is near magic in its simplicity.

You set a lever, press the gas treadle — and simply steer. The power plant does all the rest — swoops you up from standstill to full pace, accelerates, climbs, slows to a stop, starts up again — all without any gearshifting, either manual or automatic!

So it's pretty plain where this one's heading — it's going even higher in the regard of the motoring public.

Why not see your Buick dealer now and get your order in?

Clerk Keeps an Eye on the Future

"I know where I'm going with my family. My two girls are going to business college, and my boy is going to study engineering. How am I going to do all this on a white collar income? I've been planning it for years, and saving up for it in the Mutual Savings Bank. I don't make a big salary, but it's regular saving that counts. I haven't missed making a deposit on payday for twenty years." That's right — because family happiness thrives on thrift. Open your savings account now. Look for the words "Savings Bank" or "Institution for Savings" in the bank's name. They always identify a Mutual Savings Bank.

Gifts Cheer Boy Beaten by Dad

PLYMOUTH, Feb. 12 (GHS) — Letters of encouragement continued to arrive today at Jordan Hospital for Alfred Lindberg, 9, the youngster who gained national attention when he wrote a letter of forgiveness to the father who had beaten him into unconsciousness.

Meanwhile, Charles O. Lindberg, scheduled for court appearance today on a charge of assault with intent to kill, has lost custody of Alfred, as well as his other children, Eric, 3; Svea Marie, and Barbara, 8. All were placed in the care of Probation Officer Howard Pierce.

Many of the letters of Alfred contained small sums of money, and one New York man sent along a check for $100. He instructed the boy to spend $25 for toys, $25 for fruit and candy and put the rest toward his hospital bill.

SEEKS GOVERNORSHIP

BOYDTONHAM, Me., Feb. 12 (INS) — State Sen. Neil S. Bishop, 44, announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Maine. Bishop's announcement places the number of GOP candidates for governor at five.

Blind Man Rallies Groups To Defeat Vivisection Bill

A blind man, Stephen S. Rogers, today is rallying the support of the civic and business organizations of the city to defeat the Vivisection Bill.

Mr. Rogers, 24, who is blind from birth and would rather die than see his eyes, today is the only person in the city who is blind and who is not a member of the League for the Blind.

"The passage of this bill could deprive me of my living. My dog, Roger, as his name in Army days signifies, is my contact between business and my customers. If he should stray, become impounded and then be turned over for experimentation, my life and earning power would be seriously affected."

WRITES ALL TO WHITE

He said he is writing on the more than 100 members of the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, Lions Club, and the Elks Club, and is also writing to the various business and professional organizations of the city.

He said he is also writing to the various business and professional organizations of the city.

"Dogs are just like humans," he said. "They were never meant to be experimented upon. The dog is a companion animal and I'm sure every man who has a feeling of independence when I'm out on the street, I don't feel like a cripple when I'm holding onto his harness."

"Although, Roger is color blind, as all dogs are, I don't have to worry whether the traffic lights are red, green or yellow. He checks to see whether the traffic is moving or not and if it is, he goes on."

"No matter how sick my dog might be, he is always ready

FATHER OF TWO

McCarthy, who is married and the father of two children, lost the sight of one eye in 1931 and the other in 1934. Before losing his sight completely, he had a highly successful business in Boston.

"In 1936 I decided I must get into some kind of business. Lying in bed one night I thought of what the town needed and decided it was a store dealing in greeting cards and other supplies."

"Today my store is a success as a result of the help given me by a clever, gentle and loyal friend, my seeing eye dog. I never want to lose him. I'll do everything in my power to defeat the Nolen-Miles bill so that others will not lose their faithful pets."

24 Everett Mayor Blasts House Delay of UMT

Mayor James A. Reynolds of Everett, past state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, today blasted Congress for its treatment of the Universal Military Training bill.

"The manner in which the UMT measure has been handled by the Congress of the United States," he said, "is, in my opinion, an absolute disgrace."

He said that the measure could be passed by the House in a matter of days, but that it has been held up by the Senate for more than a year. He said that the measure is a "common sense" measure and that it is "long overdue."

"Universal Military Training is needed at this time," the mayor said flatly.

"UMT is needed more at present," he said, "than during the war years. Russia has more than 500,000 men under arms in foreign countries and 2,500,000 at home."

He said that the measure is a "common sense" measure and that it is "long overdue."

"The House rules committee," the mayor added, "should act right now. We should not be delayed any longer in adopting this most important measure. I cannot in that belief with any outstanding national figures, military and civilian."

3 Towns Weigh Fort Home Sites

Three towns in New Hampshire are weighing the possibility of becoming home sites for a new fort. The towns are Fort Belknap, Fort Belknap, and Fort Belknap.

The Army has announced that it will be building and rights to Fort Belknap in Washington Highlands, Fort Belknap at Hull, Fort Belknap at Nahant and Fort Belknap at Nahant.

Town officials in Hull, Washington and Nahant are looking over the barracks, recreation halls, mess halls and storage buildings with a view to converting the sites for recreational or housing purposes.

Rockefeller in Romance

that they will marry tomorrow night at Lucy's Palm Beach estate, where they now are guests. It was further learned that Eva is the name appearing on the wedding intentions. This was denied, however, by the publicity department of Socony-Vacuum in New York.

They said her name is Barbara Paul Sears. They also said she is the daughter of Mrs. Peter Nevekas of Chicago, and that she made her debut in 1933.

BEAUTY CONTEST QUEEN

Chicago sources know nothing of any debut and say that little Eva is a beauty contest winner but not as far as the Social Register goes.

Of course, she is listed in Boston's Social Register as Mrs. Richard Sears—but she'll come right out because of her recent divorce and, undoubtedly, will climb into New York's Social Register after her marriage to Winnie.

Meanwhile, Winthrop's parents Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were wintering in Arizona but announced through the publicity headquarters for Socony Vacuum in New York that they had known Mrs. Sears "for some time" and are "very happy over the coming marriage."

Incidentally, a story written some time ago and denied vehemently by Rockefeller linked the names of the two. Cholly Knickerbocker, Hearst society reporter, wrote the story and refused to print a retraction.

CHOLLY WAS RIGHT

That was about the time the 36-year-old millionaire was picking up Eva's mail at her New York apartment and forwarding it to Florida.

Rockefeller, like his dad and famous grandfather, always has shunned publicity. In fact he had nothing to say about why he was going to Florida when questioned by reporters who interviewed the survivors of the Bannock Beach crash.

He started from the bottom as much as the grandson of the founder can start at the bottom of an industry. He worked as an oil well driller in Texas for a time. He joined the Army as a private, saw service in the Pacific and was wounded at Okinawa. He was mustered out as a well-decorated major.

BRIDE-TO-BE RETICENT

Mrs. Sears, the Mrs. Rockefeller-to-be, had little to say about her plans today. She was surprised that the news leaked out.

"We didn't plan to say anything about it," she said at West Palm Beach.

Then she hinted, apparently waiting to be caught by the cautious Winthrop or one of her friends.

"That's all I can say now. You'll have to wait."

When Eva was a Boston girl she was taken to the hearts of all who know and like the Seascapes and the friends of the Seascapes are on it.

One who introduced her around was the former Mary Elizabeth Sears, a sister of Richard At that time. Mary Elizabeth was Mrs. H. Field Kellogg, but since then she has been divorced and now is known as Mrs. M. E. Sears.

In commenting still further on the impending marriage Mrs. Sears, Sr., a widow, said today:

"I believe that Eva was born in Lowell, Ill., a town not too far from Chicago, and later came to that city. She is supposed to have attended Northwestern University for a while and about that time became interested in the theater."

"She was a good actress and in her short career had some fine parts. I think she was best in 'You Can't Take It With You.'"

SEARS NOW IN PARIS

"My son is in Paris now and doing fine."

"I'm sorry that I haven't any pictures of my former daughter-in-law. I have seen many that she had, but they were all theatrical photos. You perhaps have some yourself. But don't look under Barbara. Her stage name was Eva Paul."

New Yorkers and Chicagoans were caught flat-footed by the surprise thing in Florida. Many a hopeful mama had dared to dream they might get a Rockefeller for a son-in-law.

Apparently, the bride-to-be is not a nightingale, but a dove. At least Sherman Billingsley, host at New York's famous Stork Club, said:

"I never heard of Mrs. Sears. But won't the gals around town do some weeping. It's Leap Year, too."

The future Mrs. Rockefeller got a role in "Tobacco Road," one of the principal ones in 1939 when it included Boston on a return visit.

The famous and most controversial drama finally closed in 1941 with an all-time world record of playing to 3180 audiences.

It first played here in 1936 despite being banned in most southern cities as a sordid and untrue story of the poor white trash of the South.

Much of its vulgarity and what was deleted in Boston but it played for a lengthy run before capacity audiences both times it was here.

Newtonville Cafe Swept by Fire

Fire swept the Dell Restaurant Washington St., Newtonville, today, causing damage estimated at $8000. Two alarms were sounded.

Starting in the kitchen, the flames spread into the adjoining Newtonville Wine Shop and for a time threatened offices and two beauty shops in the upper floor of the two-story brick block.

Fire Chief John L. Keating, who estimated the damage, said the fire was caused by careless disposal of a cigarette.

Mother Keeps Son's Body in Parlor

FARMINGTON, Me., Feb. 1. For three months—in the parlour of his mother's home here—the remains of the father of the Boston veteran Pvt. Earl E. Sawyer have reposed in a hermetically-sealed casket.

It will remain there, too, for mother, Mrs. Rita Brown, 44, an physically states, until winter is given way to spring and until soft earth and spring flowers replace ice and snow.

Mrs. Brown reasons that but she would much rather keep at home than be placed in a grave which would have to be chopped out of the frozen ground.

WAA Seen Victor In Quoddy Dispute

EASTPORT, Me., Feb. 12.—First round in the battle between self-styled landlord of Quoddy Village, Samuel A. Greco 48 and the War Assets Administration appears to have been won by the WAA.

The action can be attributed to Greco's challenge. "Here I am and here I stay. If they want me out, they'll have to come and put me out."

The WAA has done just that, and what is more officials in Boston said he would be kept out.

Greco claims ownership of the multi-million-dollar Passamaquoddy Tide Water Project through his government accepted down payment check for $1000 which he claims seals in "good faith" the $201,000 bid for the property.

Jess Larson, WAA chief, counters that Greco's and 10 other bids for the model community of 250 buildings have been turned down.

White Fund Board to Use School for Health Unit

Trustees of the George Robert White fund voted to use the old Gibson School at Gibson St. and Dorchester as the site of a $300,000 Dorchester health unit. Earlier they had decided to purchase the old Pitkin estate in Adams St. near Fields Corner, but switched sites to save $2,000 in land costs.

DINNERS consisting mostly of vegetables can be both appetizing and satisfying. Be sure to use vegetables of contrasting colors, and combine one of them with a substantial food.

Peanuts are good to use for this purpose, for they are a real source of protein and combine well with both white and sweet potatoes. Try chopped roasted peanuts in potato cakes. Or add coarse chopped roasted peanuts to a potato or tossed green salad. Or try the sweet potato slices described today. And remember, every peanut carries a pinch that helps to put over a meal.

A BIG FAT HEN

When purchasing a stewing chicken or hen for braising it's money-saving to select a heavy bird as it contains more meat and less waste in proportion to size than a small bird. It will prove a thrifty buy if you use it for two dinners and a soup.

BRAISED CHICKEN, SOUTHERN STYLE

Singe, twine out the feathers and clean a good-sized hen, about 5 lb. Remove excess fat to render for frying. Scrub the bird with mild soapy water, then rinse and pat dry with absorbent paper. Truss as for roasting. Slow-brown all over in some oil.

Meantime coarse-shred enough celery tops and leaves to make 1 c. and shred 1 large potato. Place in the bottom of a good-sized kettle. Put the chicken on this, dust with salt and pepper; pour in 3 c. boiling water, soup stock, or water saved from cooking macaroni or potatoes. Cover closely and simmer about 3 hrs., or until the bird is tender to the bone when tested by a fork in the leg joints.

To serve four persons, carve about 2/3 of the bird, and arrange on a platter. Pour over a gravy made from the liquid in which the chicken was cooked. Sprinkle with 1 hard-cooked egg chopped fine and mixed with 1 tsp. chopped parsley. Use the remaining chicken for a second meal.

QUICK ORANGE CAKE

In a mixing bowl work together with a spoon, 2 1/2 tsp. shortening (any kind) and 2 c. sugar. Next sift together onto a deep plate, 1 1/2 c. flour, 3 tsp. baking powder and 1/4 tsp. salt. Beat 1 egg light and add 1/2 c. orange or tangerine juice. Now to put the cake together: beat the flour mixture alternately with the egg and orange juice into the shortening and sugar. Transfer to a shallow, medium-sized baking pan. Sprinkle with 2 tbsp. granulated sugar mixed with the fine-grated rind of 1/2 orange. Bake 20 min. in a moderate oven, 375 F. Serve hot or cold. If desired, orange sauce may be poured over.

TRICK OF THE CHEF

To give a braised chicken a supertone flavor, rub it inside and outside, before cooking, with 1 tsp. powdered ginger.

Teen Rights, Feelings

DEAR MISS FAIRBANKS:
You articles are very interesting. I am a 16-year-old who thinks they are in love. Why not cut them out? They are so good.
E. E.

DEAR "E. E.":
Silly or not, I wouldn't dream of cutting them out. Teen-ages have just as intense feelings as anyone else. It is a right to be taken seriously. Of course there are times when teen-ages like everybody else, get themselves emotional, worked up out of all proportion to the importance of the matter, and then it is justifiable to remind them that most adolescent troubles are not quite so serious as they seem.

But the problems of teen-ages should be heard and considered just as carefully as those of older people, and I certainly want them to know that they are always welcome in this column.

Hostess' Favorite Recipe

By MARTHA LEE

MRS. WILLIAM BRACE PRATT, socialite of Brush Hill rd., Milton, told us the other morning how she prepares artichokes. She thinks they are delicious as the first course instead of hors d'oeuvres—particularly nice for luncheons. Following their service, she has a clear soup, chicken salad and a fresh fruit dessert.

ARTICHOQUES WITH CAVIAR

Cut off stem about an inch below base of leaves so that the artichoke will stand straight. It will look a good deal like a tulip when you get through with it. Wash thoroughly, put in rapidly boiling salted water and cook until soft; then take out and drain upside down. While hot, open out leaves just enough so that you can take out the "choke." Use same instrument like a spoon and scrape out well.

Then take a hard-boiled egg and chop very fine, add caviar and rather spicy French dressing, to make a mixture that is not "runny." (Red caviar, which is less expensive, may very well be used. And it is quite readily available today.) Chill this mixture, and just before you serve, put it in the artichoke. To eat, pull off a leaf, dip large end in sauce, and eat only the white fleshy part discarding the rest. Be sure there's enough sauce to eat with the heart, which is at the bottom, as well as the leaves. Allow one-half to one medium-sized artichoke for each serving.

A GIRL should go for in this Lilly Dache "traveling hat" ... especially if the girl is as beautiful as Wendy Russell, one of New York's top glamor models. A pale beige felt with bonnet trim, it is draped with matching chiffon ... the smoothness of which should be reflected in all feminine complexions. If you're one of the unlucky gals with problem skin ... there's a complexion smoother for you, too.

Choose Powder Carefully, Foundation Is Important

EXPERIENCE has taught most women today that a foundation is an absolute before face powder "must." You may go to great lengths in choosing your powder ...

... if it is not applied over a smooth foundation, its effect is completely lost.

There are any number of foundations ... all good in their way ... but we're going to concentrate on one suitable for the girl with the problem skin ... the sensitive skin ... only ... or slightly rebellious.

A special lotion for sensitive skin which we have in mind banishes all foundation problems. Scientifically blended with cosmetic skill, this smooth, lightweight lotion assures a natural looking make-up. And while it covers up a poor complexion, it will not harm the skin in any way. You'll enjoy a longer-lasting make-up, too—so important for the days you spend out in the open.

It desensitizes sensitive skin so that it may acquire a soft glow, and, at the same time, you can re-echo the actuality of the illusion of a new season skin with the lighter of the two shades in which it comes.

This foundation is a product of a well known cosmetic house and reflects the ingenuity of the maker. Even girls with sensitive skins like to "dress up" the face and this new make-up base, a lightweight lotion, gives them their long-awaited opportunity. Only one application is necessary to establish its durability. After shaking well, pour a little in the palm of the hand, and apply rapidly with fingertips with quick upward strokes. It dries very quickly.

Beauty Query

DEAR MISS MUGGLEBEE:
My hair is beginning to turn gray at the temples. Some time ago you wrote about a hair coloring crayon. Would that cover up the gray?

MRS. L. B. H. Swampscott:
Dear Mrs. L. B. H. Yes, this jumbo hair pencil is for use on hair that is faded and drab in color or gray. It is only a temporary expedient for camouflage; those disconcerting strands of gray, since its superficial color washes out with each shampoo. But in between the hair washings, it serves its cover-up purpose well. It comes in these shades: Light, medium, dark brown, blonde, auburn and black. Wet it before applying ... and then evenly distribute its color with a brush. It is one of the best in-between aids we know of ... especially for the days when you need a re-touch but don't have time for a hair salon. It's getting it. With this sauce, let hair color crayon to cover-up on you ... there is no pre-wash worry.

For the name of this jumbo hair color pencil in six shades, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 2-4000, daily except Sunday, or write Ruth Mugglebebe, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GEORGE RAFT in "Intrigue," gripping film drama opening tomorrow at Loew's State and Orpheum.

"The Senator Was Indiscreet," exciting and original satire starring William Powell and featuring Ella Raines, Arleen Whelan, Roy Collins, and introducing Peter Lund. Hayee opens on the screen at the Keith Memorial, beginning Monday. The companion attraction will be "The Private Affairs of a Bill Am," from the fascinating story of the same name by Guy de Maupassant, starring George Sanders, Angela Lansbury and Ann Dvorak.

"The Sender Was Indiscreet" is a riotous fun fest in which an national political scene comes to life for a good timed lampooning. Powell has one of his finest, humorous parts as U. S. Senator Melvin Ashton who goes out to land the presidential nomination by promising the electorate all sorts of ridiculous benefits.

He denounces militancy and inflation, but favors "flation." He sponsors a health bill guaranteeing everybody a normal temperature. He orates to Indian voters and talks Malay to potential supporters of Orientalism. Ash-ton is windy, unctuous, shallow and pompous, but he is a shrewd political manipulator. When the party leaders demand that he give his quest for the nomination, he pretends to publish his diary full of party secrets. Then the party begins.

Power has a tall day in the role of Ashton. His makeup reveals long white hair, prominent snowy mustache, black eyebrows and string tie is perfect for the part.

Peter Lind Hayes plays Ashton's political press agent, Ella Raines is a newspaper woman who loves Hayes but dislikes his candidate. Arleen Whelan is a legislator's girl friend and Ray Collins is a harassed political party boss. Allen Jenkins appears in the role of a hotel detective.

Julien Duvivier's brilliant mystery film, "Panic," starring Viviane Romance and Michael Simon, will have its New England premiere tomorrow at the Kenmore, limited to week-day showings only, since the state censor banned its showing for Sundays.

You Never Can Tell Here Monday

The Theater Guild will present Bernard Shaw's gay comedy, "You Never Can Tell," for a two-week engagement at the Colonial starting next Monday evening.

Currently, "You Never Can Tell" is being played with tremendous success in London, where it has already passed its 100th capacity performance. Peter Ashmore, one of England's outstanding young directors, given much of the credit for the London success, has been recruited to stage its American counterpart. Settings and costumes have been designed by Stewart Cheney.

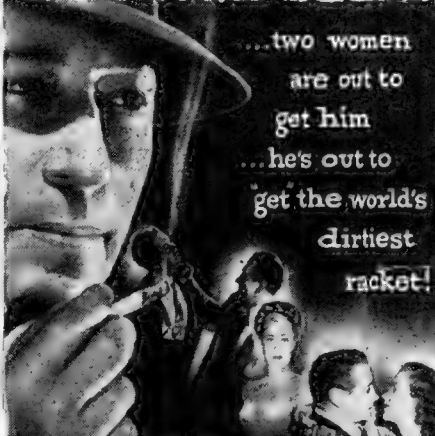

Featured in the distinguished company of "You Never Can Tell" are Leo G. Carroll, remembered most recently for his brilliant performance of the title role in "The Late George Apley"; Tom Helmore, young stage and screen star, seen on Broadway in "No Time For Comedy" with Katharine Cornell and in "Day Before Spring" with Ralph Forbes; Frieda Inescort, Patricia Kirkland, and Faith Brook, daughter of the famous English actor, Clive Brook. Others in the cast are Nigel Stock, William Devlin and Walter Todd.

30 Roger Piguet Spring Clothes Pleasure From First to Last

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, THURS., FEB. 12, 1948

By HELEN WELLS
Woman's Editor, Chicago Herald-American

PARIS Feb. 12.—The French nation's spring wardrobe is a fragile, delicately tinted affair, and the style is a delicate napkin for folding money, it is said.

There is a new twist to the spring clothes, hats and shoes for surprised friends.

PROLONGED PLEASURE
Roger Piguet's spring clothes are not a sick-in-the-eye but a prolonged pleasure from the first to the last model.

I would not insult him by saying all his outfits are wearable, or likely to be worn by women to whom dressing is not a child occupation in life. But there are innumerable suits, dresses and evening clothes a lady could wear without self-consciously knowing she is beautifully dressed.

His clothes for young women are not only feminine. Shoulderless or with a slight rounded bit of collar present. But his are sported by wide shoulders and their slender waist and made of light, pleated and ruffled, every conceivable fashion to make skirts gracefully full. He has a variety of little skirts with bold or a short skirt with wide hem and a large full skirt with a check or a skirt with a contrasting skirt and a skirt.

GRAY FAVORITE COLOR
Gray is his favorite color by day, and a color for evening wear.

His few prints are interesting. Soft versions of buck work, wooden planks, straw in basket, waves and cane chair patterns and a variety of other prints.

Paralyzed Vets Wait Home Grants

Described as "the last hope for 16,150 paralyzed veterans are looking with new courage on a plan to provide specially designed homes, with wide doors and ramps, for them.

These homes are planned as a permanent grant program to $10,000 to build the cost of a house. The $360 monthly pension is depended upon to finance the other half.

The story of these named heroes, and how they will benefit from the pending legislation, will be told in the article, "So That They May Live Again," in Sunday's American Weekly magazine, distributed with the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Famed Red Film Director Eisenstein Dies at 50

MOSCOW, Feb. 12 (AP)—Sergei M. Eisenstein, 50, world-famous Soviet film director, died yesterday. The body will be in state at the House of Films and funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Eisenstein, who directed such film as "Ivan the Terrible," had won high Soviet honors for his work. Recently, however, his "Ivan the Terrible, Part Two" was banned in Moscow because it depicted Ivan as "a character weak and spineless—something like Hamlet."

Priest Nears Fusari Bout Weight Limit

Red" Priest stepped on the scales after a brisk workout at the Garden gym yesterday and weighed 155 pounds which is only a pound over the limit for his round fight with Charlie Fusari at the Garden on Monday night. There was much speculation over how much weight Priest would carry to the ring on Monday. Fusari's management had asked for a special commission check.

"Priest is right down to near perfect shape for the Fusari bout," said manager Johnnie Buckley. "He will punch Fusari all over the ring," he added with emphasis.

"Marsilio, Fusari's manager, is nothing to worry about. Red will be in under the 154 pounds which was agreed to in the contract. Red has never worked so hard or so well for a bout. I can't see how he can lose this one."

The Cambridge Red had asked on the road at Magazine Street in the morning. He later had two rounds in the gym, one with Johnny Woods, and one with Frankie Cicotta.

It appears now that Red will weigh about 153 for the bout. He must get in under 154 or he'll drop a $1000 weight forfeit.

Bruins Responsible for Hawks Being in Play-off Contention

By BILL GRIMES

After 12,800 loyal fans had braved the elements to root them home to a win, the Bruins were shut out—yes, shut out—3 to 0 by Emil "The Cat" Francis and the Blackhawks picked up two points on every club in the NHL.

Any club which has only eight shots on a goalie in sixty minutes of major league hockey, doesn't deserve to win. In the opening period, the "saves" scorer credited Francis with only two stops. In the middle stanza, the count went up to four, but in the final canto, it dropped back to two.

Francis came to town with a record of 175 goals against him. That's an average of 3.9 per game. So he must have a marked weakness, but the Bruins didn't discover it. They had enough scoring opportunities but they passed them all up. Time and again a Bruin player wormed his way into scoring position but instead of shooting, he decided to pass and on most occasions either the pass went wild or was intercepted by a Hawk.

As we saw it, the Bruins would have beaten Francis for enough goals to win. If they had peppered him with rubber, instead of trying to score via combination plays.

Of course, it could be that the Hawks have the old Indian sign on the Bruins. At the start of the campaign, when the Bruins were clicking, the Hawks lost two games each by a single goal. Then they suddenly turned on our boys and in seven games have taken 13 out of possible 14 points.

So it's the Bruins who are responsible for Hawks being in contention for a play-off berth.

The Bruins can't win at home or on the road. So they are anything but a sure bet to retain their present 4th position. The Canucks have folded up like the well known tent. And the Hawks, who have won 18 of their 33 points away from home, are due for a few breaks at home.

The Bruins have two home games over the week-end. On Saturday, they will take on Rangers and, Sunday, they will oppose the Red Wings.

Daily Practice Faces Bruins After Bad Hawks Game

Coach "Dit" Clapper has ordered a practice session today for his Bruins. After last night's exhibition, the Bruins should devote the entire session to shooting... One of the toughest breaks any hockey fans could get would be to sit between Johnny Pesky, the Red Sox shortstop, and Jimmy Bagley, the INS ironman. They are terrific Bruin rooters and anything but cordial company when the home team is losing.

We would like to know if the Bruins' feat of losing five in a row on home ice is an all time National Hockey League record. It could be! The Hawks now are only two full games behind the fifth place Montreal... Coach Conacher is doing a fine job with the Windy City club and, unless he runs out of games, has a good chance of making the play-offs... Just as soon as the final whistle blew, the Hawks raced down to the Chicago nets and congratulated Emil "The Cat" Francis on his first shutout of the season.

Coach Conacher was a guest of the Bruins at the pre-game dinner. Due to the fact that he wasn't called upon to make a speech, "Chuck" thought it was a great dinner... There was plenty of excitement early in the second period, after "Referee" King" Clancy refused to allow a "Chicago goal," "The King" claimed that the puck hit the cross bar and didn't go into the cage. While he was consulting with the goal judge, Clancy was almost mobbed by the Hawks. Then he was given a verbal going over by Coach Conacher, his old roommate and teammate. But Clancy stuck to his guns. He has never been known to score easily.

Kullman May Be Ready For Pic Test Tonight

By FRED HOEY

If Dr. Tom Kelly gives the favorable word some time today Arnie Kullman, the Pies' fast-skating center will be in the local lineup against the New York Rovers in the Quebec Hockey League game tonight at the Boston Garden.

Kullman has been nursing an injured shoulder. He believes he is ready. But Coach Haggart is waiting the doctor's approval before sending him into the rough and tough competition this league provides. Haggart wants Kullman ready for the play-offs. If Arnie's shoulder injury is further aggravated it might put him out of action for the balance of the season.

In nearly all games between these Boston and New York rivals one goal has been the determining margin. The teams are so well matched that furious hockey generally results.

If Kullman is able to play he will center the second wave between Ray Manson and Al "Fishy" Raymond. The Pic starting line will have Marcel Fillion, Eddie Barry and Jackie Meldrum out front. The third local line comprises Ken Partis, Johnny Murelich and Jimmy Wilson.

Although the Pies have a new goalie in Al Bentley, Tony Nemanick will cover the nets tonight. Bentley is from the Providence Scarlets of the Atlantic League. Al Shill, Cliff Thompson, Ivan Irwin and Al Yourkewicz will be on the Pies' outer defense.

The Pies have a Sunday afternoon league engagement at the Garden with the Shawinigan Falls Cataracts.

OLYMPICS—Nemanick, c; Thompson, rd; Shill, rd; Meldrum, c; Fillion, rw; Barry, fw.

ROVERS—Gordon, c; Gaudin, rd; Kettner, rd; Anslow, c; Kwong, rw; Rowe, fw.

Sadowski Holds 2d In BAA Scoring

NEW YORK, Feb. 12 (AP)—How long can the Knicks keep on winning?

That was the question around the Basketball Ass'n of America today after the New York club had notched its eighth straight victory, an 86-63 decision over Providence.

The New Yorkers take the break on the road tonight against the Baltimore Bullets in Baltimore. St. Louis and Chicago continue their western division round place dogfight at St. Louis and Boston invades Philadelphia in other games tonight.

Joe Fuiks, the league's leading scorer, is expected to test his injured ankle briefly in the Philadelphia-Boston fray tonight. He's seen on the sidelines for the better part of a week.

League statistics released today showed Fuiks still tops in total points, points per game, total free throws and total field goals. Max Zaslofsky of Chicago upped his average to 19.6 for second place while Ed Sadowski of Boston scored 48 points to run his second place total to 609.
